AAAS 4535: TOPICS IN BLACK MASCULINITY STUDIES
Instructor: Dr. Simone Drake

This course provides an introduction to theories of black masculinities from various disciplines. We will explore the development of the field; the key issues and debates; and new directions. We will analyze a variety of cultural texts, social policy, and legal history in order to consider critically how black men in the Americas have constructed identities and been represented in the public sphere.